

----- Original Message -----

From: Jeremy Samuelson

To: <http://uk.f258.mail.yahoo.com/ym/Compose?To=john@starpeople2000.com>

Sent: Friday, August 17, 2007 1:57 AM

Dear John

I read your site with amusement I knew Deborah West back in the 70's and early 80s' when she was Deborah Patton. She had no spiritual powers and was merely another person living the "hippie lifestyle" in Huerfano Valley, Colorado.

She subsequently married my land partner Jack West , a timid man with little experience with women. Suffice it to say she overwhelmed him and was soon "running him."

She had a jewelry making business with him (they were also marijuana growers) I unfortunately loaned them $10,000 and was of course never repaid; I had trusted Jack who was a moral man until she twisted his mind.

There are many others who remember Deborah West as a powerful personality, willing to do whatever to achieve her ends.

She never had any spiritual powers then or even claimed to and absolutely no one thought her a healer. It just goes to show that there is always someone willing to believe.

yours, Jeremy

Jeremy Samuelson