> Dear Rebecca,

> Geoff has shared with me that you have provided us with a letter. I am > guided by the Masters to decline reading it, because it is not fitting > that > I do so. I trust that Geoff will handle anything requiring financial > consideration. I do however thank you for anything in the way of a heart > felt expression of your feelings that honors the bond as souls that is our > true starting point, long before we reconnected in this life time.

> I mean no disrespect to you by declining to read what you have written, > but > rather I am establishing the respect for myself that is appropriate by > declining an ongoing power struggle with you, as it truly is non-serving > for > all concerned. This said, I am always open and receptive to a new and > positive keynote, should you find your way to the higher road that is ever > present in the midst of the impasses created by the ego. From my heart of > hearts I can only say...Let go...Let go...Let go of the old story. You > deserve far better that your story is giving you.

> All is well here in our little world we call our office. A new tone has > been > set, a new rung has been attained; a new light is taking hold. Two new WB > transmission teachings have come through since you have been away that > have > been far more profound and powerful than any in the past. I have not slept > in two days because the light has been so brilliant. As a Master of the > Sacred Wisdoms, my Great Wheel of Life is indeed turning and all is coming > into a new keynote of pure Divine Co-Creation. Therefore I am very, very > grateful for the perfection that is revealing itself.

> My love and blessings have very much been with you, because I know who you > are and love you very much. I remember you well sitting on your horse, > with > your shield and coat of arms held high, as our fight for freedom burned in > our hearts. I can only say that this is no time to turn coat and run from > the battle field. However, hundreds of years later, the quest for freedom > is > within rather than without. Stay and face the enemy once and for all. It > is > a good day to die.

> All love to you and all power to your Quest,
